PUBLISHESS AND PROPERTORS SATURDAY, DEC. 18, 1875.

A STRONG movement in favor of the re call of the Tammany charter is being carried forward by the New York papers, led by the Herald and Times. This is the only measure that will effectually suppress the powerful organization which has for so long preyed on the City Treas-ury and held the Government under its thumb. For a long time Tammany has had control of a number of the leading city offices, and during the whole period the officials have been efficient in nothing but rascality, and scrupulous only to cram their own pockets and assist their friends in a similar procedure. A Tammany Sheriff allowed the escape of Genet. under circumstances that pointed directly to bribery, and this, with other provo-cations, has hastened the end. Houest people long endured the tyranny of Tammany, but have at last turned, and the knell of the organization has sounded.

SKIRMISHING IS CONGRESS.-We have already alluded to the scene that took place in the House at Washington over the introduction of Mr. Springer's antithird term resolution. The same sort of squirming took place among the Democrats over the attempt of Mr. Hale, of Maine, on Wednesday, to draw out a direct expression on the money question which was in a measure successful. The resolution of Mr. Hale declared that there should be prompt legislation to make the act of 1875 providing for the resumption of specie payments effective, by placing in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury such power as may be necessary to accomplish the desired end Directly on its submission Mr. Jones, of Kentucky, moved that it lie on the table, a mistake which created much consterna tion among his colleagues. He was finally induced to withdraw his motion, when the House refused to second the demand for the previous question, all the democrats voting against it, and the resolution was finally referred to the Committee on was finally referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency where it will doubtless sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

Dynamite, or Giant Powder.—The readers of the Intelligencer are familiar with the terrible catastrophe that occurred along side of the stemship Mosel by the premature explosion of a box of dynamite that was to have gone aboard that vessel in the shape of an infernal machine. This explosion, now invested with so much shape of an infernal machine. This explosion, now invested with so much horror, is the invention of a Swiss chemist named 'Nobel. It consists of nitroglycerine absorbed by some porous inert solid. The best material for an absorbent is a silicious infusorial earth found in Hanover, Germany, and known as klossel guhr. It will absorb and retain three times its weight of nitroglycerine, and has the appearance of damp Graham flour. This form prevents the transmission of ordinary sudden shocks, weren't under pressure in a confined be easily imparted to the whole; but journed. when imparted this temperature effects when imparted this temperature effects a great expansion of the gases and increased effectiveness of explosion. Ignited in the open air, dynamite burne quietly with nitrous flames. Exploded (usually by means of fulminating fuse or cap), it gives carbonic acid, nitrogen and hydrogen, and leaves a white ash, with little or no smoke. It has been regarded as the safest of all explosives, not being affected by a prolonged temperature of affected by a prolonged temperature of 100 degrees centigrade, nor is it as dangerous as nitro-glycerine when it solidifies at $\frac{2}{3}$ degrees centigrade. Neither light nor electricity nor ordinary shocks cause it to decompose or explode. The principal dangers connected with its use are those of the strong fulminating pow. affected by a prolonged temperature of are those of the strong fulminating powders used in the percussion fuses to ex-

BISHOP HAVEN'S DEFENCE.-The N. Y. Tribune of Wednesday contains a long letter from Bishop Haven in which he gives his account of the Methodist preacher's meeting in Boston and its proceedings with respect to the third term. He contradicts the published accounts of the affair upon certain points, not even omitting to contradict the reverenced Dr. Vincent upon the vital question which that gentleman raised in his defence of the societies represented in the meeting. According to the Bishop, the meeting did distinctly approve his words "by a rising vote," which Dr. Vincent upon the vital was a rising vote," which Dr. Vincent upon the vital question which that gentleman raised in his defence of the societies represented in the meeting. According to the vertical v tter from Bishop Haven in which he meeting did distinctly approve his words "by a rising vote," which Dr. Vincent was at pains to say was not done at all.

The point of Bishop Haven's letter lies in his denial that he nominated Grant for a third term. He asserts that he and referred. merely expressed the opinion that President Grant's re-election was necessary, and urged his brethren to pray for that particular candidate's renomination. We do not see that this explanation sensibly alters the aspect of the affair, or takes it out of the list of things that good taste and sound judgment would have avoided, It is true that Bishop Haven has a right to pray for the renomination of President Grant, or any other thing which he thinks the Ruler of the Universe likely of Hoom Companies and defining their duthinks the Ruler of the Universe likely to overlook or neglect, precisely as persons with smaller confidence in their own ties and powers. S. B. 215, prescribing the penalties for removing signs, lights, &c. Ordered to a cience; but men may not always wisely do everything which they have a right to do, and we hold that in making the speech he says he made, before a distinctively Methodist body, composed of Methodist preachers, assembled together as such, he gravely offended against good taste, to say the very least. We agree with the Methodist in thinking that if Cardinal McCloskey had done pre cisely the same thing at a meeting of Roman Catholic priests, the Methodist newspapers and Methodist pulpits would have "flamed with indignation," and very properly. The indignation in the case supposed by the Methodist would have rested upon the just alarm which Americans feel at any attempt of any church to take feel at any attempt of any church to take part, as a church, in political affairs; and the fact that Bishop Haven is a Methodist and not a Roman Catholic does not in the least change or modify the principle inleast change or modify the pri
